

SBP HURRICANE HARVEY RECOVERY

SBP was founded in March 2006 by Zack Rosenburg and Liz McCartney after they volunteered in Louisiana's St. Bernard Parish following Hurricane Katrina. The parish, located just outside of New Orleans, was rendered 100% uninhabitable by Katrina's floodwaters. Seeing the inefficiency and unbearably slow progress of the institutional - or "traditional" rebuilding process, but inspired by the residents' collective spirit and fierce determination to rebuild, Zack and Liz launched SBP to help them achieve their recovery goals. With the tremendous support of donors, volunteers and corporate partners, SBP has grown from a three-person volunteer team into a national organization headquartered in New Orleans, and recognized as a leader in disaster resilience and recovery, with a mission is to shrink time between disaster and recovery.

SBP seeks to achieve its mission via five interventions:

Rebuild homes quickly after disasters by mobilizing private sector innovations and assigning a single point of contact to make the home rebuilding process faster and more predictable.

Share rebuilding innovations with other rebuilding organizations to allow for efficient, predictable recovery on a national scale.

Prepare home and business owners prior to and following disaster with specific steps to mitigate risk and improve resilience.

Advise policy makers immediately after a disaster so they can deploy federal dollars sooner, and in a way that empowers an efficient recovery.

Advocate for the reform of disaster recovery strategies in the U.S. to improve the predictability and speed of recovery.

Home Is Where The Heart Is: Hurricane Recovery Project Sat-Sun, Nov. 11-12 (3 PM-10 AM)

The First UCC of Milford, CT's Senior Pilgrim Fellowship Youth Group has worked with SBP on six Mission Trips in Louisiana, Texas, New Jersey and New York. We have traveled across country and regionally several times to help with rebuilding efforts with this great organization.

We are hopeful and excited to raise funds for building materials because we know firsthand what this will mean to a family (like the Horowitz Family whom we helped this past summer 2017) who wants to get back home.

Join us for: Soup Supper, Can & Bottle Drive, Luminaries of Support, Special Speakers and Pancake Breakfast to help us help others!!!

Ask us for reservations!

Rain Date: Nov. 12

Long-term recovery takes time and resources. Funding is the number one barrier that stands between our clients and their rebuilt homes. SBP's partnerships and proven effective model enable us to rebuild homes at 40% the cost of market rate contractors, which means that your donation will go further, helping more families return home sooner.

Every donation helps. You can contribute in full for an item/material listed. Or you can contribute toward an item/material listed.
